Luxform, sustainable lighting for all

Luxform's lighting products offer sustainability at your fingertips. Currently, more than 90% of our range already consists of solar lighting. These lights are charged daily by solar energy to brightly illuminate your surroundings at night.

Each solar light works independently of other lights and does not require power cables or transformers. This makes solar lighting ideal for hard-to-reach places or landscaped gardens. The materials used in our products consist primarily of recyclable or recycled plastics. Our lighting range mainly consists of solar-powered lighting. There are three variations available.

100% solar lighting

A part of our range consists of products that generate their energy from a solar panel. The battery charges according to the weather conditions. This is favorable in the summer and may be less favorable in the winter period.

100% solar - All Year Round

Our All Your Round solar lights feature chip technology that adjusts the lights to the energy capacity in the battery, which is charged during the day. With a fully charged battery, the light gives the maximum quantity of lumens. In poor weather conditions and when the battery is not fully charged, the intelligent light will adjust the brightness itself.

The light automatically adjusts its brightness to provide enough energy to burn for 6 hours. Year-round, 6 hours of light every day after sunset. An All Year Round solar light therefore ensures safety and security in the garden 365 days a year.

100% solar + Intelligent Hybrid technology

Our innovative intelligent hybrid solar lights are particularly outstanding. These lights all feature intelligent energy management. Using hybrid technology, these lights offer the best of both worlds.

The energy efficiency of solar and the security of year-round lighting. The light is self-taught and intelligent, distributing the charged energy over 8 burning hours. During the winter months, you can set the light to 50% light/brightness, so it will have enough energy to illuminate your garden even during the winter months.

If your light is in a shady spot or if the weather is poor for several days, you can boost the light by charging it with the included USB cable. This also ensures consistent light output.

Trusted quality with a new look

One of the components of our new presentation is the division into three price-quality levels. We offer this classification for our functional lighting only.

With functional lighting, it is essential that consumers know what they are buying. After all, lighting is often purchased to increase security, and the market is unfortunately saturated with unreliable solar products.

Luxform wants to provide consumers with clear information both in the various shelf arrangements or display options and on the box packaging. The distinction between the various types is shown by convenient and notable icons on both the shelves, the displays, and the packaging. This will help the consumer to quickly make the right choice.

We have categorized our functional lighting as follows:

Standard Collection

Trusted Luxform quality since 1978 at an attractive price point. Practical products with excellent brightness, proven materials and sales success!

Plus Collection

Products with additional application options or additional properties. This includes anything that offers a proven standard product with a higher light output or intelligent chip for longer light output.

Premium Collection

Top of the line. Often feature hybrid technology with many products equipped with special and/or multifunctional applications.

IN-STORE

4-metre shelf

Increasing returns per (shelf) metre is the result of a balanced product range, clear communication and a simplified selection process for consumers.

Luxform, one of the first concept suppliers of store presentation modules for outdoor lighting, is offering a completely revamped store presentation as of this season. This new design serves as a clear beacon on the store floor and supports consumers in making the right choice of solar outdoor lighting. On a compact yet captivating 4-metre space, 4 product concepts are displayed. With a unified presentation and the use of a calm yet clear colour scheme, consumers will be swiftly drawn to the shelf.

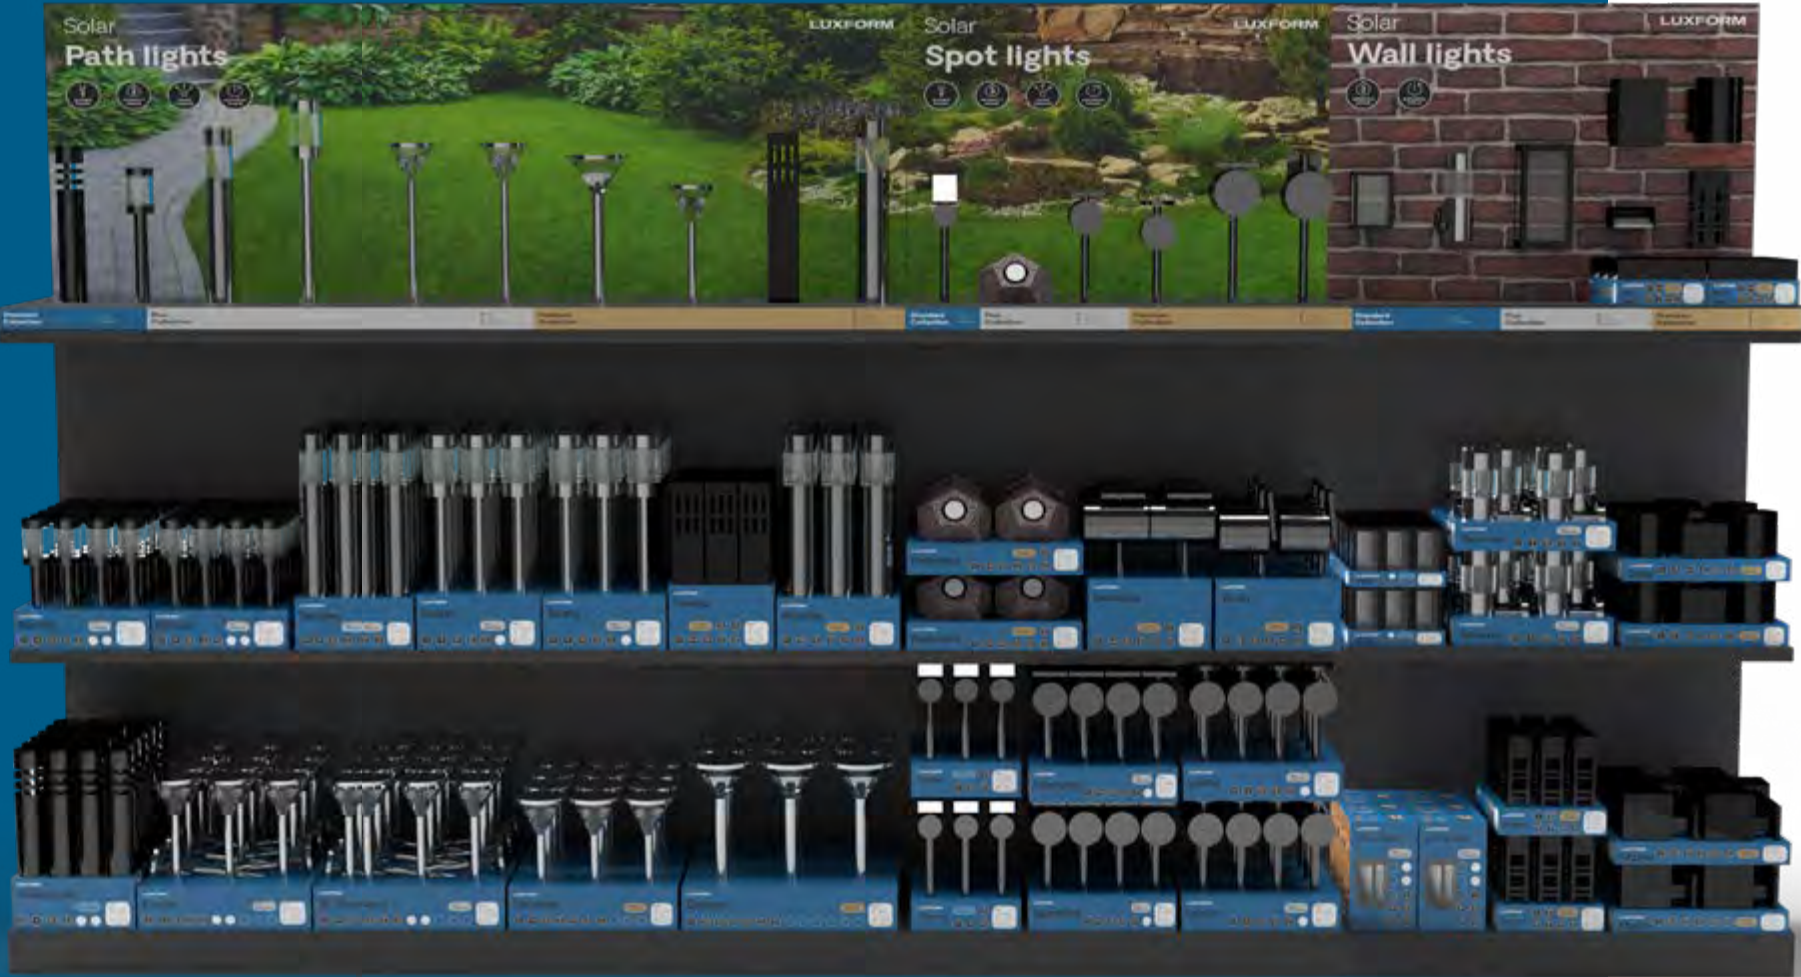

A few metres in front of the shelf, clear signage will help consumers recognize the various product groups: pathway lighting, spotlights, wall lights, security lights and party lighting. Directly in front of the shelf, consumers quickly recognize the different price-quality levels Standard, Plus and Premium. All designed for an even more compelling shop presentation and thus optimal resale of Luxform items.

The benefits of our new presentation at a glance:

- Clear shelf or display presentation; aligned to your store format and customer.
- Uniform and clear brand look, divided into clear applications. All products are displayed against a realistic photo background.
- From a small distance customers can immediately see which shelf is relevant to him/her, which simplifies the decision making.
- Directly in front of the shelf, consumers are further assisted in their choice by clear explanations of the applications and quality levels of the Standard, Plus and Premium lights.

A complete range of outdoor lighting for retailers.

Everything is clearly classified according to Standard, Plus and Premium.

IN-STORE

Displays

In addition to shelf presentation, often called first placement, our products are also offered for either a second store placement, or as a promotional display to boost sales and create additional opportunities during the season. You can also use the displays to simply try out a new category in another department.

Display Experience Bar

The Luxform Experience Bar is the ideal store presentation when shelves are not available. Designed for maximum turnover with clear consumer support. The experience bar combines all known retail lessons to activate, inform and convert consumers into buying customers. Ideally, they should be placed in the aisle to generate maximum conversion. The different experience bars combined provide a complete presentation in the main product groups; pathway lighting, spotlights and wall lights.

Permanent - display pallets

Our permanent displays are now in thousands of stores across Europe. The convenience of being able to offer a large selection of products in a limited space is of great value to many retailers. With our new signing and branding capabilities, display pallets are now even better suited to your retail formula.

Promotion pallet

Although also suitable as a permanent placement, these displays are often also used temporarily to support a specific promotional campaign. Our promotion pallets have also been completely restyled in our new brand look.

Open displays - mix & match

These open displays combine easily with the standard sales units of our products. The majority of Luxform overpacks (ex. 1909.000.00) feature sets of 8, 12 or 24 items. These overpacks can be easily placed and stacked in the open display. This allows you to order the assortment that best suits your customer group and place it in the store with exceptional ease.

Wire display - mix & match for stake lights

Specially designed for our decorative stake lights. The display includes 24 plug-in lights. When you purchase a set of 24 stake lights, you will receive the display for free.

Wire display - batteries

Luxform batteries are designed specifically for use in our solar lights. This ensures optimum operating life and - for the rechargeable variants - rapid charging. The ordering units of the batteries can be easily inserted into the display through their euro slot.

Functional

Our functional solar lighting is an important part of any outdoor space. Whether it is a garden, a driveway, a path or a patio. Lighting not only provides additional safety and convenience, but will also enhance the look of your outdoor space.

The lights are charged by sunlight during the day and emit a bright, yet warm light at night. Some of our products include motion sensors, that will activate the light when someone walks by. The majority of our solar lights turn on automatically after sunset. This not only provides additional security, but also saves energy.

Security

Securing your home and creating safety around your home are the best reasons to purchase garden lighting. By placing security lighting in the right places, you shed light on uninvited guests. Security lighting can also be a useful tool for when you return home in the evening. Thanks to the motion sensor the light turns on automatically, so you can easily drive up the driveway or find the keyhole of your door.

Luxform's security range runs on solar energy, making it a sustainable solution. Even in winter, our security lights provide bright light because the light is only on for a short - mostly adjustable - period at a time.

Patio

With a different interpretation of the home-work balance, the increased possibility of working from home and also the warmer summers on average, our lives have increasingly moved from indoors to outdoors. This trend is also reflected in the outdoor lighting market. Large incandescent fixtures and retro light sources are an atmospheric addition to the canopy or balcony. More and more we see industrial solar lights on the patio too.

Luxform therefore offers an attractive collection of patio lights suitable for the terrace, patio and under the canopy. Lighting that will not look out of place indoors, but can simply stay outside, even when it rains.

Batteries

Luxform's battery lighting is the fastest, safest and easiest way to upgrade your garden. Each battery powered light works independently of other lights and does not require a cable, sunlight or transformer. Battery lights can be used both indoors and outdoors. Due to battery power, the lights are also suitable for balconies and shaded places without power connections.

Luxform batteries are the best choice to use in all of our solar lights. Lithium-Ion (Li-Ion) batteries are rechargeable batteries and come in different voltages and sizes.

The alkaline batteries are non-rechargeable and are available as AA and AAA.
